A Mystery. EL DORALO, Aug., 12.

The people of this place and vicinity are greatly mystified over the finding of the body of a stranger half buried in what is known as Sheyley's Hollow. Shepley's is a favorite camping ground for travelers, about twenty miles north of this place. At the inquest nothing of importance concerning the indentity of the murdered man was developed. A Mr. Hamilton, of Springfield, Mo., traveling over this section in search of his son who had disappeared after sell ing some horses at Wichita, was strangely enough the one who had remains showed that the dead man had been shot, also that his skull had been erushed in. It is thought the body his lain in its shallow grave about three weeks. A spade with the letters O. C. K. cut on the hardle was found nity, the corpse had black hair, was 5 feet 10 inches in height and wieghed in life about 160 pounds.

Herman Klein was employed to-day to clean out a well thirty two feet deep two miles west of the city. He was let down to the bottom, which had hardly been reached when the sides of the well caved in, burying him under twenty-five feet of dirt and rock. An alarm was given and a force put to work to rescue the man before he smothered. While digging the men heard Klein calling them to hurry their work. Picks, mattecks and spades were applied with a will until 9 o'clock. Ten men worked as worked before. but Klein was still encaved. At 9:36 his head was uncovered, and it was found he was in an erect position, but perfectly wedged in by rocks on all sides His arms were fastened by rocks, and large ones rested on each shoulder. An hour and a half more and he was where their case has been pending for released from his prison. He was over a year.
